PRESIDENT DELIGHTS HIS OFFICIAL FAMILY

Wilson is 'Jovial At Meeting Of Cabinet; Is Quite His Old Self

Washington, April 19.—For the first time in nearly eight months President Wilson met with his cabinet last week. His appearance, his manner and his talk delighted the members of his official family, who discussed with him for an hour and a quarter the outlaw railroad strike and the way to deal with it.

The president met his cabinet in his study in the White House proper where all such meetings were held before Mr. Roosevelt built the executive offices, which include the regular cabinet room. He was seated at a flat-top desk when his advisers arrived and shook hands with each one as he appeared.

Dr. Cary T. Grayson, physician to the president had limited the session of the cabinet to an hour, but when he saw that his patient was enjoying every minute of it he let it go on, and it ran over the time 15 minutes.

"The president thoroughly enjoyed the conference with his official family," said Dr. Grayson when the meeting was over. "It did him real good."

It was evident to those members of the cabinet who had attended other sessions for years that Mr. Wilson was in fine humor and fine fettle. He began at once to laugh and joke with individuals. His greeting to some of the older advisers, whom he had not seen for more than a half year, was very cordial and happy. To one and all he gave a hearty, affable handshake. There was nothing stiff or formal about the gathering, which was more like a family reunion than a business session.

OWENSBORO WILL BE HEAD- QUARTERS FOR OIL PRODUCERS

Earl N. Swan, of Oklahoma, City, Okla., who is associated with oil men of the Southwest, will open an office in Owensboro on April 20, and will have this city as the Kentucky headquarters. Mr. Swan has leased the entire second floor of the Messenger building at the corner of Third and Allen streets. He will start with an office force of sixteen men, which will later be increased.

Mr. Swan and his associates have been in this section of the state for several months, having offices at Hartford, Calhoun and Sacramento. They have completed the securing of a large block of leases in Ohio, Daviess and McLean counties.

"This is an oil producing organization," said Mr. Swan yesterday. "We have no oil stock for sale. We have been successful in the producing business in Oklahoma and Texas. We think well of the prospects in this section of Kentucky. We have had some of the most experienced geologists and field men in the country to go over this territory. We are having shipped to McLean county one of the largest rigs that has ever been used in Kentucky. We are prepared to go 4,000 feet, if necessary for oil."

Mr. Swan said that he had some trouble in finding suitable homes for his men that will come here to reside.—Owensboro Messenger.

NIGHT RIDING REVIVED IN CHRISTIAN COUNTY

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 20.—Sowing of plant beds with grass seed in the Bennettstown neighborhood is the first night rider outcropping in this county in several years.

Tom J. Brown, Asa Combs and David Dunn found their large beds ruined by Red Top. Across the line in Stewart, Tenn., a number of farmers who intended delivering tobacco to the Hopkinsville market were visited at night by bands of from fifteen to twenty-five disguised men and warned not to sell until prices were higher.

FORMER OHIO COUNTESS DIES IN NORTH DAKOTA

Friends here have received tidings of the death of Mr. Eugene Bennett, formerly of Ohio County, but for past seven years a resident of Edgely, North Dakota. His death came as the result of an attack of double pneumonia which followed flu. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bennett, of Evansville, Ind., and was only 26 years and 10 months old.

The parents brought his body to Evansville, where it was interred in Oak Hill cemetery, April 3. Besides his father and mother, he leaves one brother, Arthur Bennett, of Evansville, Ind.; one sister, Mrs. Eva Henning, of Eldorado, Ill.; and a great many relatives and friends in Kentucky and Indiana, to mourn their loss.

HARDING DOES NOT CONTEM- PLATE EXPENDITURES OF MORE THAN $75,000

Washington, April 20.—Answering an inquiry by the Plumb league, Senator Harding, of Ohio, Republican presidential candidate, in a letter made public said he believed his campaign expenditures would be smaller than that of any other Republican presidential candidate. "I don't know precisely how much has been expended to date, but at the last conference of my managers, we contemplated expenditures of $75,000," the senator said. Harding expressed opposition to Senator Borah's bill which would permit expenditures of $480,000, provided the candidate desired to expend $10,000 in every state of the union.

TEACHERS FOR 1920 ELECTED AS USUAL

The idea seems to be prevalent that the law providing for the election of teachers by the County Board of Education will go into effect this year. This is not the case however, and teachers for the coming school year will be elected by the Division Boards as heretofore.

WHISKY BANDITS GET $4,800 WORTH OF OLD HILL & HILL

Owensboro Ky.—Transportation by the Ohio river was resumed in Owensboro sometime between 2 and 6 o'clock Saturday morning. Whisky bandits who removed two barrels of six-year old Hill and Hill whisky from bond at one of the warehouses of the Rock Spring Distilling Co., decided to "ship" by water.

The two barrels contained about eighty gallons of liquor. It is estimated. Their value, according to the lowest prices prevailing among bootleggers, is conservative placed at $4,800—$15 a quart.

There was one government man, L. Turner and two night watchmen, Joe Stinnet and Emmett Sparks, on duty at the time of the robbery.

Each new automobile, each motor truck, and each standard track farm gear placed in service in addition to those already in use, increases the difficulties encountered by the old 60-inch farm gear on the rough country roads. It is a certain process of elimination. 16-6t.

The severe downpour of rain, Monday night, undermined the concrete wall that supports Mr. E. G. Barrass' yard and caused the entire section on the north side to fall outward. This permits the earth to cave in, so that should the rain continue several days, a large portion of his yard will wash away.

Just before going to press, our reporter rushed in with a handful of notes, and begged for a few minutes-time and a column of space so that he could get in what he called a splendid "Human Interest Story."

However, we only allowed him space for the mere facts which are as follows: A. Ivan Nall spent last week attending the Carnival at Beaver Dam and while there took quite a few lessons in operating the switchboard at the Farmers Mutual Telephone exchange. As a result all the Hartford girls are jealous; Mr. Belcher who lives in Nall's house is hesitating about planting a garden for fear he will be required to move soon; and A. I. (Bat) has already had his annual hair cut, two weeks in advance of the usual time.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Miss Myrtle Payne, daughter of Mr. C. A. Miss Myrtle used every means at her command to urge him across, but to no avail, so when the water had risen until it covered the floor of the buggy, she called for help, and was answered by Mr. Pickrel, who notified her folks at once, and assisted in the rescue of the young lady, and her horse and buggy.

LODGE'S COLLEAGUE FLAYS PACT'S LOSS

Republican Senator Denounces G. O. P. For Failure to Pass Vital Laws

Washington, April 15.—Denunciation and criticism of Republican leaders, so severe that it has never been approached by the Democratic opposition in the House and Senate, was voiced by Representative Alva T. Fuller, Republican Massachusetts.

The Republicans have done nothing constructive since they gained control of Congress, he declared.

That the recent "peace resolution" is a sugar-coated pill prescribed by Dr. Lodge to be taken as a regular Republican before thinking," is one of the bitter accusations made by Fuller, who adds that "it is painless as well as senseless and will in effect put the stamp of approval of the House of Representatives on the action of the treaty wreckers in the Senate."

Mr. Fuller was one of the two Republicans who refused to vote for the peace resolution when it was before the House and his criticism is in reference to the Republican demand that all Republicans support the resolution.

"Would to God it might cure the Republican party of the sleeping sickness that has kept it from doing anything constructive since they captured control of the House and Senate, except to criticize the Democrats. How about the reforms Republicans were to put into effect when they came into control? Where is the budget? What have they done about the taxes? How have they reduced the high cost of living?"

Mr. Fuller insists that he is a Republican, but an American first, and that though he does not agree with the President on some domestic and economic questions, he is proud to endorse "the President's foreign policy and his efforts to make a league to preserve peace."

WANTS DIVORCE AND ALIMONY

A suit that has caused considerable local interest, is that filed here by Mrs. Minnie Wedding Lee asking divorce from her husband, Mr. A. T. Lee. Besides divorce from bed and board, she desires $100 per month temporary alimony and $10,000 permanent alimony. Desertion is given as the cause for divorce.

Mrs. Lee has had attachments served on three banks in Owensboro and one at Calhoun, seeking to prevent her husband from withdrawing funds he is supposed to have deposited there. Mr. and Mrs. Lee were united in matrimony at Cynthiana, Ky., October 27, 1919 and had resided in Hartford, until their recent separation.

"INSIDE FARM DOPE"

A COLUMN FOR OHIO COUNTY FARMERS SUPPLIED BY EXTRACTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF AGRICULTURE AND YOUR COUNTY AGENT—ASK YOUR COUNTY AGENT

STICK TO THE HOG

The county agent has been asked so many times lately will it pay to keep on raising hogs? that he has used his scissors on the Southern Agriculturist to give the readers of this paper an opportunity to read the editorial below:

Year in and year out, the hog is a money maker. Last year many hog feeders lost money, but last year was an unusual year in many ways. No one could foresee the slump of last fall; and besides, the business in which there are no bad years is a remarkable business indeed. The men who decided to go out of the hog business and "quit fooling with hogs" just because they lost money on hogs one year are taking an altogether too short-sighted view of things.

Stick to the hog—the old sow is the farmer's faithful friend, and may be counted on to help him out of many a tight place. Get good hogs—the day of the scrub has passed—raise them largely on pasture crops, feed them a balanced ration, give them sanitary quarters to live in, and they will be a steady source of profit.

The question of pasture crops for the summer and fall months should have attention right now. The feeding plans should be fully matured before the crops are planted. For hogs are raised cheaply only when they gather a large part of their food for themselves, and the man who expects his hogs to get their living entirely from the corn crib or the feed sack might better stick to something else and let hogs alone.

USE MORE POWER

The biggest question in this country today is how can the average farmer do two or three men's work. This short item taken from the Southern Agriculturist is suggestive:

The farm labor supply remains short, and threatens to grow shorter. It must be met by the largest practical use of team-power and improved machinery. There is no other way to meet it. No farmer who can plow two furrows at a time should be content to plow one furrow; no farmer can afford to cultivate one side of a row at a time if he can find any means by which he can cultivate both sides. Heavier teams and more teams to the man; more mechanical motive power, larger and more efficient farm implements generally—all these are demanded as never before. This is the year of all years for the farmer to add to the strength of his hands by giving those hands control of more horse and mechanical power.

ENGINE IS LIKE MULE

Farmers are thoroughly familiar with the problem of overloading a small mule. They are not so well acquainted with engines, so the county agent put his scissors into the Southern Agriculturist to give his readers the following concerning the overloading of engines:

An engine that is loaded to the limit will not last as long as one that is loaded less heavily. The heavier the load the harder and heavier the strain in all parts. There is more vibration and the cylinder is heated hotter than usual. Furthermore, an engine running in this way will consume more fuel per horse power developed than when running with a moderate load. There is a certain load which each engine can carry with the minimum quantity of fuel. If the load is either increased or diminished from this point, the engine is less economical.

HERE'S A FARM FABLE

The men about the stores in the country are growling over the low price of hogs and they have a right to growl. These growlers should read the following short fable clipped from the Southern Agriculturist before they growl themselves out of the growing of hogs:

Once the prices of hogs went up, and a certain man said, "There is big money in hogs." So he bought hogs extensively and fed them. After a while the price of hogs went down, so that fat hogs were worth no more than shoats had been before. Then this man said, "There is no money in hogs," and he sold all of his. But after a while the price of hogs went up again, and this man said, "It seems that I should not have quit so soon," so he bought some hogs once more. But he was then poorer than when he began with hogs: for buying when prices are up and selling when prices are down does not increase wealth. And that is all the moral this tale has.

WHAT DOES A SILO HOLD?

The following clipping from the Southern Agriculturist will give the farmer an idea of what tonnage his silo holds both when filled with green silage and dry fodder:

The capacity of a silo is usually estimated on the basis of 40 pounds to the cubic foot. The actual amount of silage in a silo depends largely upon the condition of the silage when it is put into the silo and the extent to which it is packed. Prof. A. L. Heacker says that he has seen a 16x32-foot silo exceed its estimated capacity by 20 tons, and that, on the other hand, he has seen silage, put in very dry and with little packing, that would lack 30 or 40 per cent of weighing out to the estimated amount. To find the cubic feet in a silo, multiply the square of the diameter by 7854 and this by the height. This divided by 50 will give the number of tons the silo will hold.

KEEP SCATTERING MANURE

Mr. Noel, answering questions in the Southern Agriculturist concerning the use of manure on young grass and clover, has the following to say:

After it is too late to apply the manure on the corn land some might be scattered thinly on the wheat and preferably where clover and grass are sown and it could be applied thinly on young grass and clover. At least two or three months should be allowed between the time of applying manure on grass and clover seedings and harvesting the hay, to allow rotting of the litter and settling down close to the ground where the rake will not gather it up.

FARMERS MUST TELL HIM

With prices of hogs and cattle falling the Farmer is wondering what he can do to make the other fellow understand his problem. The man who really wants to know, should read this editorial from the Southern Agriculturist:

The average consumer of farm products has not taken the time to ascertain just how far the farmer is responsible for present prices of foodstuffs. Neither has he thought it worth his while to find out how much of what he pays for foodstuffs goes to the farmer. If he knew these things his feeling toward the farmer would be materially changed in most cases, and the farmer's chance of getting a square deal economically and politically would be greatly increased.

He is not going to find out unless the farmer tells him. It is part of the farmer's business just now to tell him. There is nobody else to do it, and it is to the consumer's as well as the producer's interest that the facts be known. The farm papers have much to say right along this line, but most city people do not read the farm papers. Farmers do a lot of talking among themselves but this does not get them anywhere. They need right now to talk to the consumers. For let it be kept in mind that our present economic system of marketing farm products can be made over into a cheap and direct system only by the co-ordinated activity of both producers and consumers.

Here is another way to do it. The Rural New Yorker prints the ad following and tells how the farmer whose name it bears had it printed in the Chronicle, of Brookline, Mass., at his own expense:

Listen!

2-1-2c. — Squash!!! — 8c To Farmer (and at Retail) To you On Friday, December 26, 1919, the undersigned farmer delivered to one of the provision stores in Brookline a load of 1,360 lbs. of Blue Hubbard Squash, at 2-1-2c per lb.

That day and the next the retail price of squash in the Brookline store of this firm was 8c per lb. (as advertised on a card on their counter).

The undersigned suggested to Mr. X. (who bought the squash) that the store ought to pay a little more than 2-1-2c, since it was selling for 8c.

Mr. X.'s answer was, "That makes no difference!"

Allowing for some waste in the store, the farmer received about 35 per cent of the retail dollar, and the store about 65 per cent.

The farmer spends a year raising one crop, has one turnover a year, must stand a large waste in storing his crop until winter, and—

The retail store turns its stock over many times in a year, has relatively little waste, and runs no weather risks (as does the farmer).

Yet this store seems to think it is none of the farmer's business what his goods sell for at retail. WHAT DO YOU THINK?—or don't you think?

TO ME AS CONSUMER, IT IS H. C. L.—but to ME AS PRODUCER, IT IS JUST PLAIN H—L.

—JOHN D. PEARBAN.

Framingham, Mass.

Such advertising as that on a national scale would be good business right now. Of course, it could not be done by individual farmers; but the big farm organizations could do it, and ought to do it.

There is entirely too much rake-off between producer and consumer. The consumer's one chance of getting cheaper farm products is in the shortening of the road between the producer and himself. He seems not to realize this, and it is to the interest of the producer to make him realize it. Let us all see if we cannot help a little.

How Republicans Reduced Taxes

Governor Morrow went into office chiefly upon the ground that it was his purpose to reduce taxation. There was no change made by his Legislature in the tax law, so that all the taxes which were levied under the Stanley Administration will continue to be levied under the Morrow Administration. An addition to this the following is a list of special taxes imposed:

On whiskey in bond 50 cents a gallon.

On tobacco held for the purpose of manufacture, 40 cents on the hundred dollars.

County school tax increased from 30 cents to 50 cents for the maximum and from 15 to 25 cents for the minimum.

Tax on gasoline one cent per gallon.

Tax on automobiles sixty cents per horse power.

Each hotel or tavern 50 cents per room, and the minimum not to be less than $10.

Trading stamp companies $300 each.

Wholesale and jobbers in cigarettes $50.00.

Billiard and pool tables $30 for the first table and $5.00 for each other table.

Soft drink bottling works $50.00.

Oleomargarine dealers $10. This applies to all retailers who handle it.

Railroad eating house $15.00.

Dealers in patent or proprietary medicines $50.00.

Restaurants $25.00.

Real estate agents $10.00.

Shooting gallery $5.00.

Retail dealers in soft drinks and ice cream $3.00.

On each theatre 20 cents per seat per annum, minimum charge to be $10.00. This includes moving picture show houses.

Automobile agents $10 for each different kind of automobile he sold.

Automobiles used for hire $5.00 for each car.

Second hand dealers of personal property $100.00.

The above represents taxes in excess of $5,000,000 a year.

GOVERNMENT ISSUES WARNING

If there is a sucker born every minute, there also is a scheme to capture him hatched at least every half hour. The confidence men and unscrupulous promoters are not satisfied with the old schemes. They are producing new ones daily to take the place of the gold brick, the green goods, the Spanish prisoner and oil and mining stocks guaranteed to yield 1000 percent profit. Here is one plan, foisted by the aid of the Department of Agriculture.

A man received a circular from a "development company" offering him 10 acres of land in Florida as a peanut unit. The price was $2500. The literature—a high brand of fiction—formed him his ten acres would produce 1000 bushels of peanuts at a crop and one crop would pay for the land. The Department of Agriculture informed him that the average return from 10 acres of peanuts would be about $300 and that he could buy 100 acres in the same county for the price asked for the ten. He did not buy. The Associated Advertising Clubs of the World issues an earnest warning against fake automobile tire and accessory companies. "This is the reason for suckers in Motordom," he says. "One of the favorite schemes of tire and accessory fakers is the sale of stock in a company being organized. By the investment of a small sum in the stock of the company, they represent that you can obtain your tires thereafter at a 'special stockholder's price' and nimbly show you an annual saving even on your limited needs of more than your entire investment in the stock of the company."

"It is bunk, pure and simple, used for the purpose of diverting your mind from the more important questions, 'Will the company ever manufacture a tire?' 'Are the men behind the promotion men whom you would intrust your money?' 'Do you know one successful company now making a worth while tire whole stockholders bought on this basis?'"

The investment which can and does answer all questions satisfactorily, which is absolutely safe, which is protected by the whole strength of the nation and which at the same time carries an assured profit is an investment in government savings securities, War Savings Stamps, Treasury Savings Certificates and Liberty Bonds.

Get Rid Of "Spring Fever"

If you lack energy, if you are tired and languid, if you do not feel like exerting yourself—if you lack "pep"—the chances are that your bowels are sluggish. A Foley Cathartic Tablet is a good and wholesome physic that will rid you of biliousness, gas, bloating, sick headache, sour stomach or other ills that attend indigestion and constipation. They cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and invigorate the liver. (Advertisement.)

HELP THEM FIND HOMES

The Kentucky Children's Home Society now has in its Receiving Home, in Louisville, 225 children. They range in age from a few weeks to eighteen years, the youngest being a little girl less than three weeks, and the oldest a girl, eighteen years of age.

If a large number of these children are placed in the next 30 or 60 days, we can relieve the counties of children who should be sent to us immediately, as it is impossible for us to take them until we place those we now have in the Receiving Home, and we hope that a great many of our Kentucky families will at this special time, find it convenient to take one of these children into their homes.

For information address Kentucky Children's Home Society, Louisville, Ky. 1086 Baxter Ave.

Thanking you for what you have done in the past in the interest of our work, I am

Yours very respectfully,
GEO. L. SEHON, Superintendent.

Cox for President

Those Democrats in Kentucky who believe that Governor James M. Cox of Ohio because of his great ability and superior qualifications should be the next President of the United States, have decided to lay his claim before our Democratic voters with the hope that they will join us in securing delegates to the San Francisco convention, who will favor his nomination.

To secure a delegation from Kentucky to San Francisco it is first necessary that all Democrats who are for Cox shall attend the county mass convention to be held in the various county seats at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday, May 1st, and see that the delegates they send to the Democratic State Convention at Louisville, Tuesday, May 4th, are Cox men.

This is no time for strife within the Democratic party. The man who undertakes to create the impression that the COX MOVEMENT is a movement in the interest of every individual branch, wing or faction of the Democratic party in Kentucky, is not a well-wisher for party unity and party success.

Former United States Senator Johnson Camden of Versailles has accepted the chairmanship of the organization that is being made for the Governor in Kentucky, and that is sufficient guarantee that the movement is not to be factional.

Gov. James M. Cox For Our Next President.

Senator Camden in a statement given to the press, said: "I am for Governor Cox because I believe him to be the one man who can win against the Republicans in November. He is safe and liberal, has a record in Congress, and three terms as Governor of Ohio. He is a man every inch of him, and one around whom every element in the Democratic party can rally. He began life as a newsboy and made his own way. He is a sound and successful business man, has never had any serious labor trouble during his demonstration in Ohio. He is broad-gauged in every respect and has proved that he can draw strength from every element of the voting population."

We endorse Governor Cox because we know James M. Cox to be one hundred per cent American, because he has demonstrated his Americanism and we know that he is the only kind of American that will be selected to the White House as the successor to Woodrow Wilson.

We know that it takes an extraordinarily good man of the Democratic party to even once carry the State of Ohio which normally is Republican, by over one hundred thousand majority.

And, so we know that when a man carries Ohio three times as has Cox, he is what the fellows who go to the races call a safe "hoss."

We want first a capable man in the White House and we want him to be a Democrat.

Cox is capable, Cox is honest, Cox is a Democrat, and he is the best runner in our party as he seems to us. That's why we are for Cox at this time and that's why we want Kentucky to be for Cox.

The COX HEADQUARTERS will be open at the Seelbach Hotel at Louisville for communication from all who are interested and believe that this great man should be nominated and where all Democrats will be welcome.

TRANSFER SERVICE!

J. E. CURTIS

I ask the patronage of the citizens of Hartford and the traveling public in general for the following reasons:

During the past 3 years, I have tried to serve you well and have made regular trips between Hartford and Beaver Dam, rain or shine, summer and winter, good roads and bad.

Others have not made regular trips and only serve you in good weather.

I charged you only 50c and war tax, through the winter just the same as in summer.

Others are charging 75c. I have never failed to give Hartford a good word or do its citizens a good deed whenever the opportunity presented itself.

My cars leave Hartford at the following hours: 4 a. m.; 9:40 a. m.; 12:30 p. m.; 2 p. m.; and 7 p. m. Hartford headquarters at Casabier & Taylor's Restaurant.

I sincerely thank you for the many favors of the past and cordially invite your patronage for the future.

MESSAGE TO DEBS

Chicago, April 15.—The national executive committee of the Socialist party has made public the text of a message sent yesterday to Eugene V. Debs, now in the federal prison at Atlanta. It is described in the text as "fraternal greetings" and a message of love on the anniversary of your incarceration.

The message is highly commendatory of Debs and declares that he is "a beacon light to the suffering masses."

Get Thorough Cultivation Without Hard Work

When you use a cultivator you want thorough cultivation first of all. But you want to get this result in the shortest possible time and with the least possible labor.

We want you to see why using the John Deere KC Cultivator does away with the necessity for hard work, and at the same time gets the most thorough results.

Here are just a few of its features that will appeal to you.

Using it, you can meet every field condition without stopping to make adjustments. No wrench is necessary. Cultivation at even depth and distance of cultivation from the row are accurately regulated by means of handy levers.

Because of its parallel shift rigs, its shovels always face squarely to their work. They never track or trail in dodging on crooked rows. No uncultivated spots are left. You get thorough cultivation over all of the field.

The rigs shift quickly in response to slight pressure on the foot levers. Guiding the rigs is as natural as walking.

We want you to get into the seat of this cultivator and see for yourself how handy and reliable it is. We've never seen its equal for time-saving, labor-saving, weed-destroying work in the field.

Don't fail to come in early and get acquainted with the "K C."

WHY BE SURPRISED?

We see no reason why Senator Borah or anyone else should be surprised at the revelations regarding the million-dollar campaign fund of Gen. Wood, or of the very pretentious sum which the managers of Gov. Lowden are expending in the same pursuit.

The Republican party has always been the party that treated money and success in politics as synonymous. Hence Mark Hanna bought the Presidency in the open market in 1896, no Republican campaign manager has failed to attend to the little detail of raising a million or so to "round up the boys."

It was literally poured out of the Republican strong-box here in Kentucky in the State election last fall, and we may expect them to try to repeat the performance in 1920.

The Wood disclosures or the Newberry conviction will teach the Republican party nothing. It is the party of organization built on money, and without that it would be helpless in a campaign in Kentucky, just as it would be helpless throughout the country.

THE GOLD-PEN INCIDENT

The entire State is talking about the disgusting spectacle at Frankfort a few weeks ago when Gov.
Morrow called in forty or fifty negroes to witness his signature to a bill, and then presented the gold pen with which he signed the measure to one of the negroes present.
It was something entirely novel in the history of Kentucky, and "novel" is the most charitable term that can be applied to it.

Following the close of the war, at the time when the race question should have been dealt with most carefully and tactfully, a Republican Governor seems so eager to coddle the negro vote that he goes around gathering them up to witness a State ceremony in his private offices and then gives one of the leaders a gold pen as a souvenir of this historic occasion.

We do not know what Mr. Morrow hopes to attain by following such a course, but however that may be, we do know that he is fast earning the condemnation of a great majority of the citizens of his State, including many of those who helped elect him Governor.

Did he inform these men that the law itself was originated and passed by the Democrats at the previous session?

ONE BAD SOUL

While millions of American mothers and fathers were thrilled to ecstasy by the news that Germany had signed an armistice on terms equivalent to an unconditional surrender, there was one gloomily foreboding soul to whom the tidings of surrender brought no joy.

It was Senator Frank B. Brande-gee, of Connecticut, one of the leading Republican members of the United States Senate.

Senator Brandegee was temporary chairman of the Republican State Convention in his home State last week, and after enumerating all the sins, omissions and commissions, of the Wilson Administration, he said:

"When the tide of battle had finally turned and the Allied Armies had marched to Berlin and made their victory complete, the President promulgated his 14 points, which resulted in an armistice."

Senator Brandegee is entitled to his opinion upon the virtue of signing the armistice, and if he thinks the American army should have marched to Berlin at a cost of a million brave American soldiers that is his right.

His opinion, however, as one of the most influential members on the Republican side in the United States Senate cannot escape notice. If the fathers and mothers and brothers and sisters of Kentucky boys who would have been lost in that long and bitter campaign believe with Senator Brandegee they should follow him and his party. If they believe that the armistice, whose terms were laid down by President Wilson, accomplished the military aims for which we went to war; if they believe it reduced Germany to a state of military impotency they should follow Woodrow Wilson, as the man who drew the armistice.

We wonder if the Republican platform at Chicago will carry an
"On-to-Berlin" plank.

IN MEMORIAM

Richard McConnell died at his home in Simmons, Ky., March 20th, 1920. "Uncle Dick McConnell" as every one called him, was born, Dec.
10, 1845 and was past 65 years of age.

He professed religion and joined the West Providence church at the age of 17 years. February 12, 1885 he was united in wedlock to Miss Mattie Southard, daughter of Edmund Southard and there were born of this wedlock, 11 children, seven boys and four girls. Only two of the girls survive their father.

Uncle Dick suffered severe physical affliction for several months before his death, including two strokes of paralysis. He was a charter member of the Miners' Union, of District 23, having followed coal mining many years. Uncle Dick McConnell was an excellent citizen, a good neighbor, a kind solicitous and indulgent father, a faithful and devoted companion. He earned his bread by the sweat of his face. I have seen him returning home from the day's work so tired that I wondered if he would get home. But he is at rest now, a calm, sweet rest, the bliss of which comes to no mortal this side the grave. It is the place of rest which Jesus meant when he said "I go to prepare a place for you" It is a prepared place for prepared people.

He has passed out of the dim vista of this finite existence into an eternity radiant with the effulgence of a sweet spring morn. No paralytic stroke; no aching brow; no fever parched lips. Oh, what a scene of resplendent glory burst on his enraptured vision, as he closed his eyes on the things of time and opened them on the halo encircled throne in eternity.

To the bereaved, I want to say that death is not the end; death is the beginning. Death viewed in the light of philosophy of religion, is rather to be desired than dreaded.
It is the refining and purifying process that divides the pure from the impure; the mortal from the immortal. It is the gate way and the only way into eternal glory. It is the divide between time and eternity. It separates not the religious, but the righteous and the wicked.

In 2000 Counties This Month

The Forces of the Church of Christ Will Gather to Face the Facts.

IN 2000 counties in 36 states the pastors and laymen of 30 great denominations will meet in conference this month.

It is the kind of conference that generals hold before a critical engagement; that business men hold before entering a new market. A conference of judgment, not emotion; a clear-eyed facing of the facts.

A Survey that Business Men Must Admire

For more than a year hundreds of workers have been quietly engaged in making a scientific survey of the mission fields, and of America county by county.

The facts developed are startling. The charts and maps will amaze you. No such picture of America's religious situation has ever before been drawn.

On the basis of these surveys the program of the Interchurch World Movement is being built.

What the Movement Is.

This movement is a clearing house for the activities of the "forward movements" of 30 denominations. It is the basis of co-operation for the churches of America in a mighty effort to face the facts revealed in the surveys which are being conducted by the movement.

You, as a minister of the Gospel, or earnest layman vitally interested in the upbuilding of God's kingdom on earth, should know the task which lies ahead and the part which the Interchurch World Movement is to play in facing the situation.

Whether You Are Inside the Church or Out

To every man and every woman who loves his country, these 2000 county conferences are vitally important.

For the facts developed by this great survey show vividly what forces are at work in America—and what kind of a country this country is to be.

See that the pastor of your church appoints delegates. Any pastor can tell you the conference place and date. Or write direct to the

THE PRODIGAL

(L. F. Deutzman)

The Old Home, the Dear Home!
Enclustered in the Pines,
Where'er my tired steps roam
My mem'ry there entwines.
The Clematis about the porch
Has tendrils in my soul;
And tears my heavy eyelids scorch
As vain I seek that goal.

The Old Road, the Dear Road!
That led me through the woods
Near where the brooklet flowed;
The place fits all my moods.
Oh how I yearn to find the way Back to the boyhood scenes,
And Oh! For one big Holiday
Amidst dear Fairy Dreams!

While serving in France, the editor became acquainted with L. F. Deutzman, of Yonkers, N. Y., an Army Field Clerk, who had for several years written poetry for some of the leading magazines, and who now possess a book of poems written by him while in the service. In a recent letter he included the above stanzas, which although they do not measure up to his usual standard, vividly recall that longing a soldier felt while thousands of miles from home.

Weber Wagon Value

At half price would you purchase any automobile in 60-inch track?

At half price could you sell to a farmer any automobile in 60-inch track?

Why mislead a farmer into buying a farm wagon that won't track with the automobile?

What better path could a wagon use than the one made as shown above?

When you purchase a Weber Farm Wagon you get more than just a farm wagon. That fact alone is worth looking into.

Some wagons are sold more for the purpose of making a sale and as large a profit as possible than for giving service.

Some dealers are antagonistic to the Standard Track (the one track for every section of the United States) for farm wagons; the 56-inch auto track (not wide or narrow) because they have not got the agency for the Weber.

Some dealers will talk a farmer into buying a 60-inch old-track farm wagon, but when such a dealer goes into the country on business or pleasure does he use a 60-inch track farm wagon, leaving his automobile at home because the 56-inch track is wrong? NO, he uses 56-inch track to go anywhere and everywhere.

Ask the dealers selling automobiles if they have any trouble selling 56-inch track—if they could sell automobiles in 60-inch track even at half price. The answer will be NO.

What track should your new farm wagon be? The Standard 56-inch track, which is neither wide nor narrow.

EXPERIENCED NURSE GIVES GOOD ADVICE

Trained Nurse Says That Trutona Is a Real Medicine, Try It

Louisville, Ky., April 20.—With the exception of the doctor there are probably none so familiar with medicines and therefore more capable to judge the merits of a preparation than the nurse. That is why the following statement made by Mrs. F. C. Spanyer, formerly a nurse at the city hospital here, should prove especially convincing to hundreds of people. Mrs. Spanyer has taken Trutona and knows from experience just what it will do.

"My system was generally run down," said Mrs. Spanyer. "I had indigestion so badly that I could hardly eat anything. My back would ache frequently and I often had headaches which would be accompanied with dizziness. I felt tired out all the time and could hardly do my housework. I tell you I was in awful shape."

"I was formerly emergency nurse at the city hospital and ought to be able to judge the merits of a medicine, when I have had experience with all kinds for years. Well sir, the first time I tasted Trutona I said, 'There's a real medicine, alright.' I give Trutona credit for making a new woman out of me, and did it after many other medicine had failed. I can eat heartily now and the food digests properly. I get up in the morning feeling fine and able to do my housework. I hope other people who are suffering will take the advice of a nurse who knows and try Trutona."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Hartford, Ky., at James H. Williams Drug store, and in Beaver Dam, at the Beaver Dam Drug Company. (Advertisement).

Weighed in the Balance

Edwin P. Morrow was elected governor by an enormous majority, considering that Kentucky is a Democratic state, says the Elizabethtown News. He secured the votes of thousands of Democrats as the result of his remarkable campaign and the many pledges of reforms he made to the people.

He declared that the people were over-taxed, that many unnecessary offices had been created by the Democratic administration, and that the state house was reeking with corruption.

A Republican house of representatives went in with him and by the apostasy of a Democratic senator, the Republicans also controlled the senate.

The legislature is now adjourned and the public can see how far Gov. Morrow has fulfilled his pledges to the people.

The new tax law, which he attacked in all his speeches, remains unchanged in any particular. There has been no reduction of taxes anywhere. On the contrary, the minimum school tax levied in the counties has been raised from 15 to 25 cents. This means an increase of taxation, upon the people amounting to $1,000,000. A gasoline tax has been levied, which the consumer must pay, of one cent on the gallon, which it is estimated will amount to $600,000. The new automobile tax will amount to $2,000,000 additional. So as a result of three months of Governor Morrow, the taxes of the people have been increased $3,500,000 a year.

Investigation of the various departments of state have failed to reveal a single dishonest act upon the part of any Democratic official.

Instead of abolishing the 354 useless offices, which he claimed had been created by the Democratic party, there will be in three months as many officers under Morrow's administration as there were under Stanley's. He abolished the twenty deputy fire marshals and so amended the law that the auditor can appoint 120, or one for each county. He abolished the jury fund trustee and gave the position to the circuit clerks at the same pay.

He created what he calls a non-partisan board of control by appointing only men who had voted for him for governor. He went around the state demagoging and appealing to the ignorant that he proposed to turn "Old Ring loose" but now claims he was unable to force through the law repealing the dog tax, when everybody knows that no law could be passed without his sanction and that he was able to defeat every measure he wanted defeated.

Governor Morrow has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. He is just like all of his Republican predecessors, long on promise and short on fulfillment.

The American Red Cross chapters in Ohio and Indiana were able through their emergency relief committees to rush material aid to hundreds of sufferers left homeless. In the wake of the orondo which swept that district March 28. Red Cross nurses and Home Service workers took care of the injured and provided shelter and food for the stricken families. Disaster relief is an important part of Red Cross work today.

Red Cross nurses who attend the National Convention of Nurses in Atlanta, Ga., the week of April 12 will have a special program devoted entirely to their work, April 15. This is also the anniversary of the death of Miss Jane Delano, director of Red Cross nursing during the war. The evening session will take the form of a memorial in her honor.

More than half of the American Red Cross workers in Siberia are now en route to America or scattering to new posts of employment in the Far East and elsewhere.

At the request of the National Polish Committee, the American Red Cross will assist in the return to their homes in America of 12,000 Poles who enlisted in this country to fight in the Polish army. It is expected the work will be completed by June.

A total of 47,391 soldiers' and allotment checks that had failed to reach the proper allottees were successfully delivered through the Red Cross during the year ending January 31, says a report just issued. Work on 15,317 other cases for which assistance was asked during that period, is continuing.

The biggest American Red Cross cargo ever landed in Siberia or any other part of the Far East has just been unloaded in Vladivostok. It is valued at more than $2,500,000.

Several Red Cross chapters in Kentucky have opened free dispensaries and clinics maintained entirely by the Red Cross with services of doctors and nurses given free. The dispensary is at the service of the entire county.

Eight hundred men who were in the A. E. F. and who "adopted" French orphans have renewed their support for a year through foreign headquarters of the American Red Cross.

When it is an effort to drag one foot after the other, when you are always tired and seem lacking in strength and endurance, when aches and pains rack the body, it is well to look for symptoms of kidney trouble.

After taking Foley Kidney Pills, they make me feel like a new man. I recommend them to my customers and never have heard of any case where they did not give satisfaction."

The Planter of Many Purposes

It is like discussing the merits of a trusted friend to get experienced corn growers talking about International corn planters.

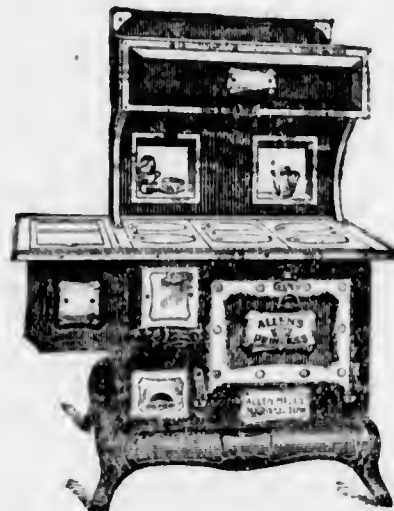

The accuracy with which they drop 2, 3 or 4 kernels to the hill, as desired, is only one of their commending features. The planter can be quickly adjusted to keep the boots level so that hills are evenly checked for cross cultivation. It can be used as a straight drill simply by pressing down a small foot pedal, or it can be set to drop full hills without the use of a check wire, by the addition of a simple power drop attachment.

No matter what kind of seed you want to plant, there is an International that will do it the best way. For instance, the International No. 2 has been designed for the man who plants a variety of crops. Its range of widths and hill distances makes No. 2 especially valuable to the truck farmer. There are other styles, suited to various planting purposes, all giving unvarying satisfaction.

With International corn planters goes a quick, responsive service equal to any emergency. We will gladly explain fully the different International corn planters and the uses to which they are especially adapted. Come in and see us.

What Diversion Is In Your Mind for Your Next Visit To Owensboro?

The woman who thoroughly enjoys life in a healthy, wholesome way, constantly seeks a variety of diversions, as relaxations from housekeeping and social duties. The little vacations, the week-end trips, the nice little visits to relatives, are life-savers. But one cannot always have such delightful occasions in anticipation. So other changes of atmosphere must be devised.

May we suggest a diversion that is always available and always interesting—always different, in some way from the time before—a diversion that costs you nothing and which always supplies pleasing stimulation of ideas, about personal apparel and housekeeping plans?

A VISIT TO THIS STORE

without any obligation to make a purchase. With our invitation to ask to see anything you may desire to see, at any time, regardless of whether you wish to purchase at the time or not.

It is our pleasure to keep you informed about our goods and interested in our store

This Isn't Written to Sell Clothes

If we only ran our advertising to sell our goods---you wouldn't see us in print very often these days.

We can sell good clothes as fast as we can get them. Men know the value, the economy of good merchandise now better than ever before. They don't want anything but good quality. We won't sell anything else.

That's why we're here; to let you know our standards—and whether you come here or not, you are pretty sure to say we're right about it; and you'll like us for it. If you don't feel that way about us we don't need to bother about selling.

How Long Will He Stay Dressed Up?

If your boy is anything like the average it won't be long; most parents say their boys wear out "everything but the soap."

Don't expect too much of the boys; learn to expect more of the clothes. You can depend on long wear if you get his clothes here. They'll save for you because they're made to stand the hard usage live youngsters give their clothes; you won't buy so often.

Owing to the railroad strike for the last two weeks we were unable to get poultry cars and had to cancel our leading dates at Rosine and Beaver Dam, Ky. But the strike is practically over now and we will have the cars in Rosine and Beaver Dam on the following dates without fail, as it is our aim to give you more for your poultry than you can get elsewhere, and to prove this statement we will guarantee you at car door these prices cash, and more if the market will justify:

Hens, 34c pound.

Cox, 17c pound.

Rosine, Ky., April 26th and 27th.

Beaver Dam, Ky., April 28th and 29th.

Compare our prices with what you have been selling at and you will readily see it is to your advantage to bring your poultry to our car on above dates. You can weigh your own poultry if you wish, but I cannot pay for feed, as the price is high and I cannot sell heavy-fed poultry in New York.
